Ideas for films that would be very funny, purely because Arnold Schwarzenegger is in the film.

(Based upon Arnold Schwarzenegger's comments that the film "Junior" is so funny because it features him becoming pregnant and displaying female behaviour)

1. Arnold Schwarzenegger sustains a blow to the head and is left convinced that he is actually a skinny, nerdy, computer programmer that drives a really small car. Also starring both the Apple and PC men, from the Apple adverts, as similar characters.

2. Arnold Schwarzenegger is a liberal, pot smoking hippy that gets accused of being a nazi. Features Steve Carrell as a white supremacist that Schwarzenegger gets inadvertently tangled with.

3. Arnold Schwarzenegger is mistaken for a homosexual fashion designer and ends up going along with the mistake for the love of a beautiful woman, played by Anne Hathaway.

4. Arnold Schwarzenegger, through a series of coincidences, finds himself as the charismatic leader of a religious group, similar to the Amish. To stop a group of ruthless capitalist developers from taking over their land, Arnold Schwarzenegger rises to the challenge and turns the simple religious folk into weapon wielding action heroes.

5. Arnold Schwarzenegger is possessed by a radical, pacifist, feminist. He regains some control of himself which results in endless hilarious conflicts (always with his voice).

6. Arnold Schwarzenegger is a surfboard-riding dwarf trying to make it in the majors. His voice is pitch shifted up an octave, making everything he says hilarious.

7. Arnold Schwarzenegger is convinced that he is Jonny Depp, and constantly tries to reenact famous Depp scenes with himself as Jonny Depp throughout the film.
